

SFDR Sustainability Risk Policy

May 2024

PHILOSOPHY

Western Asset believes that financially material factors, including those that may be referred to as environmental, social and governance factors, can affect issuer creditworthiness and impact portfolio performance. The Firm's ESG framework can be found here.

As a non-European Union (EU) entity, the EU's Sustainable Finance Disclosure Regulation (SFDR) does not directly apply to Western Asset. However, Western Asset believes that its long-standing approach to ESG is consistent with the SFDR's concept of integration of ESG risks in its investment decision-making process, as referred to in Article 4 of the SFDR.

STATEMENT OF ESG RISKS

Western Asset's ESG risk assessments rely on external data which may be limited, estimated, difficult to obtain or materially inaccurate, and therefore may impact models used. Even when identified, there can be no guarantee that Western Asset will correctly assess the impact of ESG risks on an investment. To the extent that financially material ESG risks occur there may be a sudden, material negative impact on the value of an investment. Financially material ESG risks can manifest themselves in numerous ways, including but not limited to:

- Failure to comply with environmental, social or governance standards resulting in possible fines, sanctions, reputational damage and/or change in consumer behavior affecting a company or an entire industry's prospects for growth and development;
- Changes in laws, regulations or industry norms giving rise to increased operating costs and reduced profitability, possible fines, sanctions or changes in consumer behavior affecting a company or an entire industry's prospects for growth and development;
- Changes in laws or regulations, which may generate higher demand for, and thus undue increases in prices of securities of companies perceived as meeting higher ESG standards, and
- Changes in laws or regulations, which may incentivize companies to provide misleading information about their environmental, social or governance standards or activities.

Financially material ESG risks are relevant as both standalone risks, and also as cross-cutting risks which manifest through other risk types that are relevant to the assets held by Western Asset's clients. For example, the occurrence of a financially material ESG risk can give rise to financial and business risk, including a negative impact on the credit worthiness of other businesses.

ESG risk may arise and impact a specific investment or may have a broader impact on an economic sector, geographical regions and/or jurisdictions and political regions.

Sectors, regions, businesses and technologies which are carbon intensive, higher polluting or otherwise cause a material adverse impact on ESG factors may be exposed to regulations and policies, a fall in demand and/or obsolescence, resulting in stranded assets—the value of which is significantly reduced or entirely lost ahead of their anticipated useful life. Attempts by sectors, regions, businesses and technologies to adapt so as to reduce their impact on ESG factors may not be successful, may result in significant costs being incurred, and future ongoing profitability may be materially reduced.

© Western Asset Management Company, LLC 2024. This publication is the property of Western Asset and is intended for the sole use of its clients, consultants, and other intended recipients. It should not be forwarded to any other person. Contents herein should be treated as confidential and proprietary information. This material may not be reproduced or used in any form or medium without express written permission.

Past results are not indicative of future investment results. This publication is for informational purposes only and reflects the current opinions of Western Asset. Information contained herein is believed to be accurate, but cannot be guaranteed. Opinions represented are not intended as an offer or solicitation with respect to the purchase or sale of any security and are subject to change without notice. Statements in this material should not be considered investment advice. Employees and/or clients of Western Asset may have a position in the securities mentioned. This publication has been prepared without taking into account your objectives, financial situation or needs. Before acting on this information, you should consider its appropriateness having regard to your objectives, financial situation or needs. It is your responsibility to be aware of and observe the applicable laws and regulations of your country of residence.

Western Asset Management Company Distribuidora de Títulos e Valores Mobiliários Limitada is authorised and regulated by Comissão de Valores Mobiliários and Banco Central do Brasil. Western Asset Management Company Pty Ltd ABN 41 117 767 923 is the holder of the Australian Financial Services Licence 303160. Western Asset Management Company Pte. Ltd. Co. Reg. No. 200007692R is a holder of a Capital Markets Services Licence for fund management and regulated by the Monetary Authority of Singapore. Western Asset Management Company Ltd is a registered Financial Instruments Business Operator and regulated by the Financial Services Agency of Japan. Western Asset Management Company Limited is authorised and regulated by the Financial Conduct Authority ("FCA") (FRN 145930). This communication is intended for distribution to Professional Clients only if deemed to be a financial promotion in the UK as defined by the FCA. This communication may also be intended for certain EEA countries where Western Asset has been granted permission to do so. For the current list of the approved EEA countries please contact Western Asset at +44 (0)20 7422 3000.